The soloists were not all good, but we must accord the greatest praise to the violinist Yeave, who for his marvelous technic stands with Cessar Thomson. While Thomson executes, with no apparent effort, all that Ysaye does, yet he lacks that soul-playing of Ysaye. Mme. Gadski was in good voice and sang with that pathos and dramatic fervor which she, of all the soloists, seemed to possess Firangeon in the finale, "Wagner's Meister singer."

He apparently made no effort to sing but his voice was always true. The same cannot be said of the tenor, Berthold, whose singing below middle C was almost always flat. Above middle C his voice was of the order of Brignolis', very beautiful. The main trouble was in the support of the Festival orchestra, which lacked precision. Ysaye had to watch the violins and play to them to the detridestroyed at times by the careless work Somewhere in the country there is a nesday afternoon as long as she lives, says the Washington Post. She was here who brought musicians on the opening in Washington on that day, and with Room at the White House to shake hands with the President. Mr. McKinley has of late adopted the carnation, and wears one in his button-hole when he receives the public. It is not a red and full chorus the result would have carnation, like the flowers Mr. Springer, been different. However, all praise to of Illinois, and Senator Brice used to wear, but it is an exquisite shade of pink. The President always enters the talent for "encores." We felt sorry Saturday evening that Mr. Berthold did East Room with his carnation, but when he leaves the flower is gone, for he has given it to some one of his visitors could not respond to eight calls for Wednesday his choice felt on the little girl. She was fairly trembling with excitement when her turn came to shake hands with him, and he spoke a few words to her. Her face beamed with Creamery..... pleasure at the unusual attention, and when he took the flower from his coat, leaned over and gave it to her, her eyes fairly danced with delight. She held the precious carnation fast with both hands as she left the White House, and I'm quite sure the withered flower will find a place among her most treasured belongings

Mrs. Thomas Jett who has been sick The professions are overcrowded. Even the ministers seem to be suffering from a congestion of candidates, as it has usually suffered from a lack. In this in mind that there is a profession in which well trained men can fittingly enter. It is the work of supervision in our public schools. Supervisors and superintendents and directors of ability and of training are in constant demand.

The American public school system is suffering more from a lack of proper wisdom in its administration than from any other cause. This system is gradually improving This improvement has resulted from a better supervision, but still further improvement should also be further improvement should also be made in the supervising forces. Spurious Mummies.

Spurious mummies have from time to time been palmed off upon the pub-lic, and a doubt arose in a Vienna musoum as to the validity of one daughter of the pharachs in their collection. It occurred to them, in view of the general hollowness of life, that the young lady might have been manufactured in Birmingham. So they turned the Roentger rays upon her and saw at once through the many folded wraps the amulets which the Egyptians placed upon the bosoms of their dead, thus proving the genuineness of their specimen.
